Assignment_2

Explain why it is or why it is not a big data problem.

Explain why it is an analytics problem.

How many data attributes are there?

Identify the type of the 15 attributes you find most relevant in this context.

Determine whether the task refers to a supervised or unsupervised learning problem

Find out what the standard analysis algorithms are for this analytics problem.

Download the data and provide descriptive summaries of the sample data

How are the missings distributed?